Applicants Sought for U.S. - China Research Exchange Program

U.S. researchers are invited to participate in the US/PRC Research Exchange Program in Earthquake Studies. The program, designed to further cooperative research in earthquake hazard mitigation between the U.S. and the People's Republic of China (PRC), is jointly sponsored by the U.S. National Science Foundation and the Ministry of Construction in China and is being coordinated by MCEER.

The program enables selected U.S. researchers to visit host institutions in the People's Republic of China for both short-term (1-2 weeks) and long-term intervals (3, 6 or 12 months). Successful applicants will engage in cooperative research activities as outlined in Annex III to the US/PRC Protocol for Scientific and Technical Cooperative Research in Earthquake Studies, Earthquake Engineering and Hazards Mitigation.
